NANCY ANN FRENCH WINS TITLE

A radiant and lovely Nancy Ann French walked the ramp in the crown and cape of Miss Wareham amid the applause and cheers of the spectators attending the Miss Wareham Scholarship Pageant of 1970. The event, at Wareham Town Hall, marked an important end and beginning for the Lowell State College freshman and resident of Middleboro. First runner-up was Miss Kathy Lee Bourne of Middleboro, a freshman at Bridgewater State College; and second runner-up was Miss Elizabeth Mary King of Mattapoisett, State competition which will eventually lead to the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City. The Pageant was sponsored by the Wareham Area Chamber of Commerce. Miss Elizabeth Jean Pina of Marion received the most congenial award and Miss Debra Jean Dugas of Middleboro, the most talented non-finalist.

Rita Blair, director, advisor to the Queen and certainly the primary force behind the Pageant, was recognized for her continuing efforts in behalf of every queen. She made a short speech of thanks to her helpers in the successful effort.

Donna Desjardian Fihlman was mistress of ceremonies. Donna, a former Miss Wareham, proved a beautiful hostess and excellent M. C. as she introduced the girls, described their costumes and present and future activities and plans. Mr. Harold C. Cleveland of the Wareham Board of Selectmen, welcomed the audience. Mr. O. Jay

MISS WAREHAM 1970

Mueller, president of the Wareham Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the quality of young people represented at the Pageant. He said that the people of this area could take the greatest pride in their sons and daughters and that the pageant was a showpiece of the youth who would be a constructive force in the future of the country. He said that amid the discouraging events involving young destroyers that the pageant displayed the young talent, beauty and intelligence that will build the future.

The pageant consisted of three events - a swimsuit, talent and evening gown competition.

The new Queen was crowned by her predecessor, Miss Noreen Marjorie McConnell. Other former Miss Warehams who took part in the program included Bonnie Smith George, the first Miss Wareham; and Kathy Schaaf Loring. Susan Atwood, Miss V.F.W., and Linda Perry, Cranberry Bowl Queen, also participated. Several visiting Queens from other towns and cities in Massachusetts were introduced.

Excellent background music was provided by the Apollo IV Orchestra, a group comprised of young high school students. In the group were Michael King, piano; Steven Shaw, bass; Robert Sabourin, trombone; and Paul Soares, drums.

State Award to O.R. Dept.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AWARD

The students exhibited some very handsome wrought iron furniture which they had made along with colonial clocks. The group received a State award for having an outstanding Industrial Arts program.

ORRHS RECEIVES AWARD FOR INDUSTRIAL ARTS

At the Massachusetts Industrial Arts Spring conference, Old Rochester Regional High School was among the participating south shore high schools to receive the state award for having one of the outstanding programs of Industrial Arts in Massachusetts this year.

Industrial Arts instructors, Mr. Louis Corey, Mr. Richard Threlfall and Mr. John Wright, attended the conference along with students, Robert Bertrand, Kevin Morrison and James ford, who spoke on the youth problems of today. He impressed on the members the importance of keeping communications open between adults and the youths. A lively discussion followed his interesting talk.

Two charter members, Mrs. John Rogers and Mrs. Murray DeCoffe were recognized.

Mrs. Miller was presented a gift by Mrs. Richard Flood in behalf of the outgoing officers.

ST. ANTHONY'S WOMEN'S CLUB

It has been proposed by Mrs. Jimmie Price and the new officers that a Saint Anthony's Women's Club be formed, which will assimilate the duties and functions of the Rosary Altar Society. By doing this, it is hoped that a larger attendance and greater participation by all the women in the parish will come forth and will also broaden the interest range of the combined 2 clubs. All past members of the Rosary Altar Society will be accorded the benefits and privileges as usual.

The new by-laws, a letter of information and a tentative program will be sent to all the women of the parish.

The club activities will begin with a lawn card party at the home of Mrs. Jimmie Price. Tentative date has been set for July 7th.

FASHION SHOW "SPRING INTO '70"

A fashion show entitled "Spring into '70" will be presented at the Old Rochester Regional High School at 8:00 P.M. Friday, May 29th. Susan Beauregard will show 25 outfits of her own design. Susan, a senior at the high school, plans to attend the Pratt Institute and hopes to earn a degree in the field of fashion. Models will be the Misses Debra Kreider and Ardith Bell of Mattapoisett, Florinda Smith and Monica McAfee of Marion, and Sandra Fontaine of Rochester. A guest model from the Cinderella School of Models will model her own outfits. Staff members of the high school who have helped make the fashion show possible are Mrs. McAfee, Mrs. Severance, Mrs. Marland and Mr. Domingos.

After the show a slimming salad smorgasbord and a fruit punch will be served. Admission is free and everyone is invited. Cookbooks will be sold by the Future Homemakers for their scholarship fund. Guests of honor will be Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Gifune, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Carvalho and Dr. and Mrs. Matthew Finn.

Letters to The Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

;I have just read Mrs. Kathryn Nowak's letter in the May 20th issue of the Presto Press. She is "glad" that both you and she are aware of the "fact (underlining mine)... that bullets taken from one body" of the Kent State students who were murdered "were not of military type". Unfortunately, Mrs. Nowak's letter must have been written before the report released by the Portage County Coroner, Mr. Sybert, was made public. Mr. Sybert notes the bullets which killed the Kent State students were "similar to .30 caliber military ammunition".

My point is that considerable confusion still surrounds that tragic event. We can only hope that all questions pertaining to the case will be answered satisfactorily. Meanwhile, to express one's hopes as "fact" seems not only irresponsible, but altogether too public a display of that which some

Upon coming home from a university closed by the national student strike I leafed through several back issues of the "Presto Press". In these I noticed several articles written by both the editor and two concerned readers about the incidents now occurring on college campuses across the nation. The events of the past few weeks are shameful for us all, but the present deformities of our society and economy are by no means unique, although some of the circumstances differ from those of years past. However, if current needs are ignored indefinitely, explosive protest will be the unavoidable consequence. Two occurences have already provided grim testimony to this fact: the killings at Kent State and Jackson State Colleges. Both stand out in contemporary American history as stark warnings of the incendiary violence that can flare up uncontrollably.

And these things will continue to happen as long as we condemn one another and take sides in the matter. It is very simple to substantiate a viewpoint, either pro or con, but it takes a little courage to humble one's self and give a little. So let us dispense with our arguments and come together. Kent State was an "American" tragedy, and we all are at fault. So, as Americans let us all share the shame, and more important, let us all become a part of the cure for society's ills. The rift will only become more awesome if we continue the path that has been taken thus far. We must stop criticizing each others action, and we must work together to bridge the gap between young and old, rich and poor, and radical and conservative if we are to progress as an American nation. The decision is in our hands, so I implore you, the citizens of Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester to "give a little". I ask this of my own generation also. We have all been given fine educations, and as educated people we must show understanding and respect to our elders. After all, life is not a one way street. So, this summer when you see a member of the "other" generation look at him as a friend not an enemy. Isn't that what life is all about -- people living harmoniously together. You might say it cannot be this way, I believe it must be this way.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

As a college student who is directly involved in the National University Strike, I have found that many newspapers have neglected to cover the constructive aspects of the nationwide college shutdown. As a resident of Mattapoisett, I would like to report the positive side of this movement to the community. Not every student is a flaming radical who demonstrates in the streets and advocates violence. At Wheaton, a small women's college in Massachusetts, we have sought action through constructive, peaceful, and hopefully successful means. Our cause is reform, not revolt, and we are working in unity to achieve this goal. In

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Jason, in his editorial, Peace in Our Time ... and Our Imperfect Constitution, quoted Benjamin Franklin on the signing of the Constitution. Mr. Jason showed his ability to do research on historical information, but he left out what brought about our Constitution.

Mr. Jason says, "Youth of today are impatient with the imperfections of our system. Some of them want to destroy it to erase the flaws". Wasn't Mr. Franklin in a hurry to erase the flaws of the Articles of Confederation and substitute the Constitution? On March 1, 1781 Maryland ratified the Articles and they went into effect. Only 7 years later, on June 21, 1788, the Constitution went into effect. Today, the American government under the Articles was considered a complete failure. In the year 2000 our Constitutional form of government could be considered a failure! Who knows?

Why was Mr. Franklin impatient to get rid of the flaws? Could it be because of riots and violence? The Right would never admit that violence creates good. Yet history shows that it is possible. George Washington was able to stop a mutiny during March 11-15, 1783 by the army. On August 31, 1786 armed men prevented court in Northampton, Massachusetts from sitting. In September there was a riot at Exeter, New Hampshire. An armed group broke up the court session at Worcester on September 5. Then on September 26 Daniel Shays and 1000 men forced the Springfield court to adjourn. Then again on January 25, 1787 Shays and over 1200 men assaulted the arsenal at Springfield.

Could it be that these events were major causes in creating our Constitution? Could it be that the events on our college campuses are going to create good?

neck, confidently expecting to devour an elephant. By the year 2000 I may have grown old and the writer of this letter may have grown up. At that time, if the United States Constitution is not as strong and more valued than ever, the estimated 1% or 2% who fought to destroy it and "won" will be the most battered "victors" in history.

Don't ever underestimate the numbers or the power of free men, of all ages, who will preserve this country as it is now constituted.

The fraction of college age people who are leftist activists is an infinitesimal hard core. I believe that it is due to their training and due to the saturation television news coverage that they have been able to mislead so many of their peers. That this tiny left wing group has managed to close so many U. S. colleges and universities is a massive violation of the civil rights of the majority who are serious students. Only the willing or weak among the college administrators would have been cowed except that this leftist core has attracted broad backing by appearing to back popular causes of concern to all.

The future depends on a very much overlooked group of young Americans. Not all young people are in college and only a few college students riot on campus and in the street. Millions of young people are earning a living, supporting families and starting businesses. They know they have a stake and a great opportunity in this country. Thousands of young men serve in the armed forces. These are mature young men and aware of the responsibilities of their country.

National Guardsmen are young men from every town in the United States. The man running the corner gas station, the boy next door perhaps are Guardsmen. That riots are so serious, danger to property so great, that these young men have to be placed in a situation such as Kent State is deplorable. Responsibility for that tragedy rests squarely upon the rioters and not upon these guardsmen who were called in to put down the rioters. Tragedy in such situations is inevitable. Thousands of our finest young men are in Viet Nam. They are being betrayed by the continuous pressure which undermines the President. The war is not his. He is trying to end it. Recently, I was advised to read. TIME magazine was mentioned. I found that the May 18th issue of TIME carried a photo of our President being burned in effigy on the campus of Tulane by alleged "students". Imagine this photo, and others like it, in the hands of the Viet Cong. Incidents of this kind blown up out of all proportion to their actual importance give a warped impression of U. S. opinion. No wonder that last week in Paris the North Vietnamese stated that they will be satisfied with nothing less than a complete U. S. defeat. Why should they negotiate when willing allies on a U. S. campus, aided by a leading news magazine, give worldwide attention to an act which demeans the leader of our nation. Multiplied, these incidents are Communist victories. President Nixon has the duty to protect the civilian population of Viet Nam from massacre when our troops are gone. He must leave a competent South Vietnamese army behind. He must hit sanctuaries of the enemy to destroy their supplies in order to save our men's lives and hasten the withdrawal.

People who think that peace is simply a matter of laying down weapons are deluded fools. Peace is kept only by the strong. There are various grades of peace. Peace can be bought by those who are willing to pay any price. I believe that the peace we want guarantees a strong republic of free men and women.

There is one silent group of young men. They are busy. They are carrying the burden of a bitter war, poorly supported by many of their countrymen. Here is a letter written not to us. It is a personal view of the war by a young Mattapoisett man who is in Cambodia. He wrote his thoughts to his parents. They have consented to let us publish it.

Dear All:

Well, I guess today is Saturday. It's pretty hard to keep track. I know that it's hotter than blazes and it's miserable. Quite a life huh?

Here's a few facts you can tell people concerning the Cambodian situation:

1) How would you like to be a soldier in the delta, get hit every night by the V.C. and not be able to fight back 'cause the enemy sneaks into neutral Cambodia?

2) The Communists really got shook when we moved our troops into C. They're running scared right now.

3) People back home should spend more time worrying about the troops already over here than the ones that might have to come.

4) Nobody over here gives a damn what these jerk college kids think of Nixon's decision. What difference does it make to them. It's our loss or gain.

5) Poeple protesting the National Guard ought to thank God that it wasn't us trying to protect Kent State.

6) How do people think we feel about the punks blowing up the campuses back home? We wish that the government would turn us loose at one of those riots. Then they'd get the trouble that they're looking for.

About 99% of the people I know back up the President completely; and as near as I can figure, we're the only ones whose opinions count.

Well, I got that off my chest. It does really burn me up when I hear about all these jerks causing riots.

MATTAPOISETT FELLOWSHIP SCHEDULES RETURN TRIP

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church has planned a repeat visit to the East Rochester Congregational Church, County Road, Rochester, on Sunday, May 31st.

Early last February, one cold and snowy Sunday morning, the Fellowship traveled to East Rochester to conduct the regular morning worship service, and to host a special "Sunshine Social" afterwards. The club officers, all high school freshmen, Lisa Saether, Mark Harris, Lynn Stephan and Jeff Dunn, arranged and presented that program. The event was so warmly successful that members of the East Rochester Congregational Church urged their young friends from Mattapoisett to plan a return visit in the Spring.

So it is Spring, and a return date has been mutually established for another special Sunday morning, featuring a trip to East Rochester for the Pilgrim Fellowship, to share worship and hospitality with their neighbors.

Although the same Freshmen officers are helping to plan the worship service, assist with the music, and aid arrangements for the "Social Hour", nevertheless, the club's underclassmen are in charge of the proceedings this time. James Holt is worship leader, assisted by John Hinman, Benjamin Dunn and Andrew Bills.

Parents and interested adults planning to join this Rochester "Pilgrimage" are advised to assemble in the parish hall parking lot shortly past 10:00 A.M. the morning of the 31st, for passenger assignment, and a 10:15 auto caravan departure.

Every Fellowship family involved is asked to donate either a plate of sandwiches or sweets for the post worship social in the East Rochester Congregational Church vestry. Beverages will be provided by Fellowship Advisers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dunn.

YWCA Activities

Students of the art class at the YWCA will exhibit their paintings during the month of June in the Y lobby. The public is cordially invited. The lobby is open from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. weekdays.

Manuel C. Oliveria, instructor, states that the purpose of the exhibit is to show the type of painting that can be done with little training, that with these students ranges from a few months to a few years' instruction.

Work will be shown by Miss Viki Athanailes, Mrs. Evelyn Chace, Mrs. Dorothy Cook,

An innovation is planned for the Wednesday Luncheon program June 3rd following lunch in the dining room where sandwiches, dessert and beverage are available. The public is cordially invited.

The adult women's newly organized synchronized swimming class will show what is possible to achieve with only short time practice. Twelve members, ranging in age from 24 to 60 and including career women, housewives and grandmothers, will participate. Seats are available in the pool balcony. This should be a pleasant change, and those who have not visited the new health salon will have the opportunity to become acquainted with its facilities that include sauna, health lamp and exercisers.

"Hypnosis, its Purpose, Techniques and Recent Results of Research" will be the subject of Mr. Fred H. Mathews, Friday, June 5th, when he speaks for the Cosmopolitan Group at the YWCA at 8 P.M. The public is invited, and especially young people home from college who are in hypnosis.
